

Christian Ministry and Training (CMT) Course Materials Agreement

1. CMT uses notes written by Gerald Rowlands and the late David Cartledge to deliver Christian Ministry Courses.
2. CMT has written and developed Assessment that corresponds to notes written by Gerald Rowlands and David Cartledge. The legal copyright for the Assessment materials rests solely and completely with CMT.
3. Gerald Rowlands makes his notes freely available to anyone wanting to use them. CMT has formatted Gerald's notes to standardise the appearance and makes this reformatted version of the notes available to CMT students and to others wanting to use the notes.
4. CMT is the caretaker, publisher and distributor of the notes written by David Cartledge. This arrangement is endorsed by David's widow Marie Cartledge.
5. Gerald and David's notes are downloadable free of charge from the CMT website.
6. CMT provides a printed copy of Gerald and David's notes as a service to anyone wanting to use the assessment developed by CMT in conjunction with the notes. The fee charged by CMT for this covers staff time, paper and printing, and contributes to the cost of the development of the assessment materials.
7. Anyone using the notes formatted and published by CMT must not modify the content, remove content, or alter their appearance in any way, including the front and back cover pages and anything in between.
8. Anyone using the CMT Assessment cannot modify the appearance of the assessment including the branding of the assessment with the CMT logo. However the content (wording) of the assessment tasks may be modified PROVIDING that:
  - CMT is provided with a copy of all modified versions
  - CMT is able to freely use the modified versions for whatever purposes CMT chooses including its own training and including the provision of the modified versions to other providers
  - The copyright for the modified versions of the assessment rests with CMT
